THE CA$H CLUB

HAVING DIFFICULT CONVERSATIONS

"It's not that people are unaware they should communicate on these topics, it's that to discuss someone's financial success, or lack thereof, can feel like a crude judgement." Treasurer Briner.

TAKEAWAY

- Money conversations can feel invasive because they reveal goals, mistakes and fears.
- Financial intimacy is more than sharing account balances.
- The skills should continue developing as responsibilities change.
- Clear boundaries reduce resentment and power struggles

ACTIVITY

- Game
- Guest speaker options
- Quiz questions
- Watch: Tips for Teens

DISCUSSION BOARDS

COMPETITION

FOR ADVISORS

Subscribe!

FINANCE WITH THE FRIDAYS TREASURER
A Financial Literacy Newsletter

BRADFORD B. BRINER
STATE TREASURER OF NORTH CAROLINA